Exploring New Heights on the Orbitrap Journey

12:00 End

Alexander Makarov, the developer of the Orbitrap mass spectrometer, will visit Science Park Amsterdam to give a seminar on the latest developments in Orbitrap Mass Spectrometry. With the advent of the Orbitrap mass analyzer thousands of laboratories around the world could perform high-resolution, high mass accuracy MS. This alone has revolutionized proteomic and metabolomics research and enabled significant progress in life sciences in general as well as screening, toxicology and forensic analysis.

Registration is free, but to help with Catering we encourage you to register by emailing to corthals.lab@gmail.com. Please note there are a limited number of seats, so please register. Any other enquires can be sent to prof. Garry Corthals at g.l.corthals@uva.nl
